

Dealings were made for the account of discretionary investment clients.

Managed Account Advisors LLC is ultimately owned by Bank of America Corporation.

The trade was Depository Receipts traded on United States time zone in US Dollar with conversion ratio to ordinary shares of 1 to 20. Differences in closing balances are attributable to non-trade related account activities that are not consider