

The Executive received the following disclosure of securities dealings pursuant to Rule 22 of the Hong Kong Code on Takeovers and Mergers:

Total amount paid / received

|                                   |             |                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |          |       |                | sharesinvolved |           |
|-----------------------------------|-------------|--------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------|-------|----------------|--------------------|-----------|
| CICC FinancialTrading Limited | 6 June 2022 | Other typesof securities(e.g. equityswaps) | Closing / flattening / unwinding ofproprietary positions arising fromunsolicited client-driven dealings.I confirm this was done no laterthan the close of the morningtrading session on the trading dayfollowing the originatingclient-driven dealing | Purchase | 9,300 | $363,461.2900 | $39.2548          | $39.0282 |

